AN EMBARRASSING ORDER.—A man entered a well-known restaurant in New York the other day and beckoned to a waiter. "Bring me," he said, "two fried eggs—one fried on one side, and one on the other."

The waiter looked slightly puzzled, but answered, "Yes, sir," and disappeared toward the kitchen.

Ten minutes later he returned, looking decidedly worried.

"Would you mind repeating that order, sir?" he asked.

"I want two fried eggs," said the diner, "one fried on one side, and one on the other."

The waiter again disappeared in the direction of the kitchen. After a longer wait than before, he returned, his clothes disheveled and his face bruised and scratched.

"I beg your pardon, sir," he said, "but would you mind having boiled eggs? I've had words with the cook."

Deadly Serpent Bites

are as common in India as are stomach and liver disorders with us. For the latter however there is a sure remedy: Electric Bites the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown, of Bennettville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health, after years of suffering with dyspepsia and a chronically torpid liver." QUEER SALUTATIONS. There are many curious forms of salutation practiced by different nations. When the Laplander meets a friend, he gravely walks up to him and, pressing his nose against the olfactory organ of his acquaintance, rubs it violently from side to side.

The South Sea Islanders salute each other by rubbing their hands or feet against the cheek.

The Turks consider it a mark of indecent familiarity to remove their head dress in the presence of company, and in nearly all Oriental countries the people seldom remove their hats as a salute.

In Japan, as in other Eastern communities, shoes are never worn in the houses. The Chinese are profound in their salutations, and a code of various complex greetings is prescribed and learned by all Chinamen.

W. R. Ward, of Dyersburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation, and it has proven without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." G. L. Penny.

Dentist (to working man, who has just saved him from drowning)—My dear man, how can I express my gratitude? Come to my office any time and I'll pull every tooth in your head for nothing.

Death From Lockjaw

never follows an injury dressed with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its antiseptic and healing properties prevent blood poisoning. Chas. Oswald, merchant, of Rensselaersville, N. How to Break Up a Cold.

It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, Stanford.

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. UNFORTUNATE.

I bought a mine,
The mine is mine no more;
I struck a sharp,
And he, not I, struck ore!

I loved a girl,
So dear to me, I vow;
I wedded her,
And she is dearer now!
Some men have luck;
Of me that can't be said;
If luck struck me
I'm sure 'twould strike me dead!

SIMPLE but impressive ceremonies marked the laying of the corner stone of the new Kentucky capitol at Frankfort Saturday, only two set speeches being delivered. Gov. Beckham placed the mortar in the bed with a silver trowel which will be presented to the Kentucky Historical Society. Former United States Senator William Lindsay delivered an address on the future of the State, and H. V. McChesney gave the history of the former capitols. Gov. Beckham and Senator James B. McCreary spoke briefly. An immense crowd, including some of the biggest men in the United States, was present.

THE action of the 60 insurance companies in resolving to pay only 75 per cent. of the adjusted losses at San Francisco is unjust and arbitrary and will hurt them more than they will be benefitted financially by refusing to pay their just dues. The State insurance commissioner of California has a right to summarily revoke the license of any company for cause and it is said that he will do it as well as give the widest publicity to the methods of those who have entered into the scheme to defraud.

A REPUBLICAN paper, which is panic stricken at his increasing popularity, says that as Mr. Bryan grows in popular favor the longer he stays away, he had better remain on the other side all the time. But Mr. Bryan will heed no such advice. He will be back in August and will receive such a demonstration of love and affection, that no man in private life has ever before been accorded. A tremendous ovation awaits him.

No. 74, 10000 acres of cotton land in Mississippi. There is no section of country which offers so many opportunities for profitable investment as the Mississippi Valley. When the timber is removed the land is unequipped for agricultural purposes. It will produce a sale of cotton to the acre and will grow any other kind of crop raised in the temperate zone. The soil needs no fertilizers and gives a yield which cannot be excelled. Taxes are low, the life is perfect and the man who buys this farm and timber lands at present prices is making an investment that he will never regret. This land is divided into tracts ranging from 40 acres to the tract to 10000 acres and prices from $2 per acre to $10 per acre, according to location, etc. We are authorized by the company who owns these lands to state that as other parties are considering the purchase of land that we offer these tracts subject to prior sale, withdrawal from market or change in price without notice. However, when notified, the purchaser must make an investigation. About 10000 acres at this and has been sold by the company since we received this option. For further particulars apply to us.

A genuine old-fashioned welcome will be given all, and a good time is insured. The grounds are beautiful and every accommodation is right up to date.

You will be amply repaid for your time and money expended in seeing the great moral play, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," which will be given in a tent here to-morrow, Wednesday night. Omer preached a brief, but appropriate funeral sermon at the grave in Buffalo cemetery, after which the body was laid to rest until the resurrection morn. Mrs. Dudderar is survived by four children, Mrs. T. D. Raney, of this place, Mrs. Mary Carr, of LeRoy, Mr. John Smiley, of Louisville, and Sine Dudderar, who lived with his mother. Much sympathy is felt for them in the loss of a most excellent and godly mother. Deceased was a Miss Fields, and was a sister of Mr. Watt Fields, of Turnersville. She was engaged in the millinery business here for many years and the friends she made of all who came in contact with her are saddened that the good woman is no more. THE case of R. E. Lee Sims for killing John R. Farris still occupies the attention of the court and it is probable that it will not go to the jury before Thursday. Every inch of ground is being contested and a stubborn fight is being made by both sides. The following jury was chosen after 150 or more men had been examined: J. L. Sloan, W. J. Duncan, Wm. Clarkson, C. P. McAfee, J. H. Dunn, C. E. Barker, Coulter White, G. R. Pope, J. W. Shearen, S. W. Burke, G. A. Hughes, J. B. Quisenberry. All of the jurors are from Boyle county except Messrs. Sloan, White and Hughes, who live in Lincoln.

STANFORD had a very distinguished guest for a minute or so Sunday. Ex-Gov. David R. Francis, of St. Louis, who was president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, passed through in his private car en route to Richmond and alighted to speak to his first cousin, Mrs. Joseph Coffey, and her sons. He is a fine looking man, the very picture of health and has the appearance of one who can mingle well with the great common people. Gov. Francis was born in Madison and he was going to Richmond to attend the Home-Coming yesterday. For a number of years he lived in the East End of this county with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Francis. They occupied the house now owned by Mrs. N. J. Horton and the distinguished gentleman is remembered by many of our older East End citizens.

SAD DEATH. - The family of Dr. T. M. Lewis received the sad intelligence Friday evening that little Nannie Lewis, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lewis, of Covington, was dead. Miss Georgia Lewis left on the first train and wrote back that Nannie was playing in front of her home and came in contact with a live electric wire. The little thing tried to speak to her sister, who ran to her, but she could not understand what she said and doctors were summoned but her spirit had taken its flight to mansions above when they arrived. The burial occurred in Covington. Little Nannie was a beautiful child and the pride of not only her parents, but her grand-parents, aunts and uncles as well. Several years ago she spent some time at the home of Dr. Lewis and the friends she made here sorrow at her untimely taking away. It is indeed sad that one so full of life and promise should be thus cut down and much sympathy is felt for the loved ones in their deep sorrow. May He Who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb give them strength to bear the burden which came so suddenly upon them.
